Script

- Jules: Oh thanks, but you don't have to. I can open a door.
- Jules: Okay. So this shouldn't take more than an hour. But if you can't stay here, I'll call Becky, and then she'll find you, and then you can just pull up.
- Ben: Don't worry. I'll be here.
- Jules: I think I forgot to eat today.
- Ben: Should I pick you up some sushi?
- Jules: No, I eat too much mercury. I'll be fine. I'm good. I'm actually kind of nauseous, so...
- Ben: That was fast.
- Jules: Not fast enough.
- Ben: Oh, I picked you up some soup from a place I know.
- Jules: Thanks. You really didn't have to do... Oh my god! That smells so good.
- Ben: Good.
- Jules: Word travels fast.
- Cameron: Pretty short meeting.
- Jules: Yeah, I hated him.
- Cameron: Really? What happened?
- Jules: I thought he was a condescending, sexist know-it-all, who did not seem to get what we do at all. And honestly, I think he would run our business in a completely inorganic way that would lose us all the customers we have killed ourselves to get. Oh, and I think that he would replace us as soon as he got the chance. Oh, and the man never blinked. An Olympian non-blinker.
- Cameron: Okay, then.
- Jules: Yeah. See you in the a.m.?
- Cameron: Be there or be square.
- Jules: I'm sorry.
- Cameron: Hey, don't be.
- Jules: I just wanted to say thank you for helping out with Mike today and for getting me chicken soup.
- Ben: You're very welcome.
- Jules: It's okay. I really won't bite.
- Ben: You started this business all by yourself a year and a half ago, and now you have a staff of 220 people. Remember who did that.
- Jules: Who? Um, thank you.
- Daughter: Mommy.
- Jules: My favorite girl.
